TRAVEL GUIDE

I) Arrival in Germany

Please make sure that you have the necessary documents and visa to enter Germany and the Schengen countries.

After arriving at the airport, you will pass the German borders in which your passport will be scanned and the officer will cross-check your details to make sure you have the required documents to enter Germany.

II) From the airport to Halle (Saale)

There are several airports in Germany and you could select one among four closest airports: Leipzig/Halle, Berlin-Schönefeld, Berlin-Tegel or Frankfurt. Please look at the information below to find out the travel options from your airport of arrival to IAMO or to your hotel.

Closest airport among above mentioned airports is the Leipzig/Halle airport. Therefore, we recommend you to look at possibility of arriving to this airport.

Leipzig/Halle Airport:

Leipzig/Halle Airport is located 20 km from Halle (Saale). Shuttle trains leave every 60 minutes to Halle (Saale) main station ("Halle (Saale) Hbf"). After your arrival, take train S-Bahn S5 from Leipzig/Halle Airport ("Leipzig/Halle Flughafen"), platform (Gleis) 2, to Halle (Saale) main station ("Halle (Saale) Hbf"). Halle (Saale) main station is the next stop after Leipzig/Halle Airport. The train ticket (4.60 EUR) is available at the ticket machine ("Fahrkarten"). Duration of the trip by train is about 14 minutes.

See section III for information about travel options from Halle (Saale) main station to IAMO.

Berlin-Schönefeld Airport:

150 km from Halle (Saale). Regular trains leave the station "Berlin-Schönefeld Flughafen" (200 m from airport) to Halle (Saale) main station ("Halle (Saale) Hbf"). There are no direct connections: you have to change trains at least once. Check the internet (www.bahn.de) or ask for some help among service ("Deutsche Bahn").

Train tickets are available at the ticket machine
